From the President

Georgia Gwinnett College is pleased to provide this publication of its initial Fact Book. It documents a robust and definitive volume of information that reflects the College's status during its first year of full academic operations on its Lawrenceville, Georgia campus.

The College opened its doors to its first students in August 2006 and continues to grow each semester in student enrollment, faculty and staff, facilities and acreage. Our strategic plan maps the path toward a vision of a 21st Century open-access liberal arts college where faculty engagement in teaching and faculty mentoring of students serve as a national model for innovative approaches to public higher education. Georgia Gwinnett has attracted a high quality faculty, a diverse and engaged student body, and the resources necessary to fulfill its mission for the greater Gwinnett County and northeast metropolitan Atlanta communities.

By the date of publication of our 2006-2007 information, the College had increased its enrollment ten-fold, added nearly 100 faculty, earned official candidacy status with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, held two commencement ceremonies, and was certified to administer federal financial aid programs. Perhaps equally important, the students chose their mascot, the Grizzly Bear! The Georgia Gwinnett College Foundation earned its tax-exempt status and began operations that led to the acquisition of several buildings, so that the campus now includes a 750 car parking deck, a fitness center, and a student services center. The College has accomplished much in a very short period while establishing and sustaining superb academic and student services programs for all of its students.

A quick scan of this book's table of contents reveals the breadth of information available to the reader who desires to learn more about the history, organizational structure, finances, demographics, facilities, plans and programs related to this splendid campus. I hope it contributes to your knowledge of and interest in our college—past, present and future.

Go Grizzlies!

From the Editor

Providing a record of GGC's history from its inception on August 18, 2006, the Fact Book of Georgia Gwinnett College tells the story of the College's development. As a historical record, the Fact Book houses general information about the College and its administration and organization, data about student enrollment and composition, information about the faculty and staff, and various kinds of essential financial information.

As a member institution of the University System of Georgia (USG), the data systems of GGC are supported by the Office of Information and Instructional Technology (OIIT) of USG. Therefore, the College's reporting is in compliance with that of the USG. The USG system itself employs various administrative and instructional enterprise applications such as PeopleSoft Human Resource Management System (HRMS), PeopleSoft Financials Management System, and Banner student and financial aid information system. In order to compile information about student enrollment and other related information about students, the GGC Office of Institutional Research reported information which was drawn primarily from the Banner student data management database used by the USG. Faculty and Staff information was generated from the datasets extracted from HRMS; and financial information was provided by the Office of Financial Affairs.

For 2006-2007, a legacy process was employed as the primary means for the reporting of Banner data. The Student Information Reporting System (SIRS) and the Curriculum Inventory Reporting (CIR) were used to generate the student and enrollment information that is found in this Fact Book. However, in most Fact Books, data from the fall terms are typically presented and considered to be representative of yearly data. Because this Fact Book was the initial one for GGC, the data of both fall and spring terms were used.

Efforts also were made to ensure the numbers published in this Fact Book were consistent with those published in such official documents as the Enrollment Reports, Curriculum Inventory Reports, and Faculty Information from the USG Board of Regents in two respects. First, data sources were based on the archived datasets which were extracted from SIRS and CIR census files. Datasets for information about Human Resources also were extracted at the same data point used by the Board of the Regents. Secondly, reported numbers were generated using the definitions provided by the USG. However, a few discrepancies still were found between the actual data and the official reporting data of the USG. In these cases, deliberate and careful studies were conducted, and the efforts made to resolve these research data issues were duly noted. In order to document these cases and to provide accurate records of them, both the revised and modified numbers were listed, and explanatory notations also were provided.

Many campus entities made significant contributions to the GGC Fact Book. These include the Office of the President; the Office of the Vice President for Academic & Student Affairs; the General Counsel; the Office of Development; the GGC Foundation; the Office of Public Affairs; the Office of Educational Technology; the Library; the Division of Student Affairs; the Office of Student Financial Aid, the Office of Human Resources; the Office of Financial Affairs; and Facilities. Special thanks also go to those individuals<sup>1</sup> who gave their expertise and time: Laura Ledford (Executive Director of Enrollment Management) and Nancy Grattan (Data Manager) who consistently and tirelessly helped to clarify and resolve data issues. All of these collaborations have been both appreciated and so essential in completing this collective work -- the first GGC Fact Book.

Notes on the Second Edition

The original edition of this first Fact Book was published on-line only. Upon completion of the 2007-2008 Fact Book, we decided to publish the printed version of the two volumes of the Fact Book with a limited number of copies. Design of a printed version has, therefore, made a second edition appropriate. Some revisions in the layout and the content were made where adjustments for clarification were necessary.

History

GGC was chartered by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia (USG) as “a true 21st Century higher education institution.” The college will be a leader in the use of instructional technology and other innovative educational methods, and in the assessment of student learning to enhance education. Designated as an institution with a principal responsibility for developing innovative approaches to higher education, the college will offer bachelor degree programs in a variety of disciplines. In addition, the college will serve as a unit of the USG that is focused by design on highly efficient approaches to student and administrative services.

GGC currently offers junior-level courses and will provide full degree programs in fall 2007. Programs initially will focus on four areas that are important to meeting the needs of the region and the state including biology, business, information technology and psychology. In following years, degrees in education and nursing are projected to be part of the curriculum.

Significant Firsts

Georgia Gwinnett College is the first public four-year liberal arts college to be founded in the United States in the 21st Century according to the American Council on Education. It also is the first four-year college to be founded in Georgia in more than 100 years. It is the product of visionary leadership by the community, the University System of Georgia Board of Regents and the State Legislature (Georgia General Assembly).

GGC was founded in response to a regional need. For more than 15 years, community leaders have pressed for a four-year college in Gwinnett. As the county grew rapidly, it was evident that the expanding business community needed a source of qualified candidates for its workforce. Local high schools now produce an increasing number of graduates who need more options for higher education. It was clear that the county needed a four-year college of its own, one that embraces new technologies and teaching methods appropriate to the 21st Century.

A resolution was passed by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents in October 2004, and the college was established by the Georgia General Assembly in March 2005. As the University System of Georgia’s model campus, it will create opportunities to provide innovative approaches to highly-efficient student, facility and administrative services.

The college held its first classes on Friday, August 18, 2006 at its Lawrenceville campus and 118 students attended classes as part of the first fall enrollment. This enrollment was represented by 68 percent females and 32 percent males and included a culturally diverse student population.

The University System of Georgia Board of Regents 2006-07

The University System of Georgia's Board of Regents was created in 1931 as a part of a reorganization of Georgia's state government. With this act, public higher education in Georgia was unified for the first time under a single governing and management authority. The Governor appoints members to the Board, who each serve seven years. Today the Board of Regents is composed of 18 members, five of whom are appointed from the state-at-large, and one from each of the 13 congressional districts. The Board elects a Chancellor who serves as its chief executive officer and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The Board oversees 35 colleges and universities: four research universities, two regional universities, 13 state universities, seven state colleges, and nine two-year colleges. These institutions enroll more than 260,000 students and employ approximately 11,000 faculty and 28,600 staff to provide teaching and related services to students and the communities in which they are located.

Academic Support and Student Services

Educational Technology

Educational Technology (ET) has four areas: Support Services, Information and System Security, Educational Technology and Media Services, and Technology Development and Evaluation. Our vision is to maximize the appropriate use of technology to support student success and administrative functionality; and to use educational technology, innovatively, to positively impact student learning and outcomes.

As per our Charter from the State of Georgia, we will identify opportunities to use technology to improve operational efficiency, thereby allowing us to redirect more of the institutions resources to the student experience. Our goal is to model innovative approaches to education and highly efficient student, facility, and administrative services. Our philosophy is that ET and traditional IT exist to support GGC's vision, mission, goals and objectives. This will be accomplished within the collaborative atmosphere of GGC with ongoing and productive interaction with users and activities we support. A primary focus will be on faculty, staff, and student engagement in the evaluation of current and potential technologies.

Library

Georgia Gwinnett College Library fulfills its role as the heart of the GGC intellectual community in a number of ways. The Library provides an in-house core collection of books, periodicals, and microfilm, which is currently undergoing dramatic expansion to meet the curricular needs of the new college. With the availability of GIL Express, faculty and staff have access to the collections of all of the University System of Georgia university and college libraries. The library also provides access to the GALILEO suite of databases and to a growing list of supplementary research databases. Numerous other research resources, such as tutorials and research guides, are available directly from the library's website.

The Library provides research instruction for classes through its Library Instruction Program. Librarians, in consultation with instructors, tailor instruction sessions to meet the specific research needs of the students in their courses. Further, the Library is developing an instruction program in which research instruction will be integrated throughout the curriculum. The Library provides a full array of reference services including the ability to schedule one-on-one research consultations and the Ask-a-Librarian e-reference service which allows users to receive valuable reference assistance via email.

Faculty and Staff

Human Resources

The mission of Human Resources is to provide proactive service and specialized expertise for Georgia Gwinnett College through:

- high quality, cost-effective services to meet the needs and support the success of the administration, faculty, staff, and students
- substantive content expertise and consultation on complex human resource issues
- continually formulating effective human resource strategies, policies, procedures, programs, and services that support institutional compliance

Definitions of Faculty: Faculty information reported in this book falls into two categories, corps of instruction and instructional faculty, of which the descriptions given in USG Faculty Definitions are extracted as follows:

Corps of Instruction: Full-time professors, associate professors, assistant professors, instructors, and lecturers are considered the Corps of Instruction and must be approved by the Board of Regents prior to their initial appointment upon recommendation of the Chancellor and the President of the institution. Promotion to a higher rank must also be approved by the Board upon recommendation of the Chancellor and the President of the institution.

In other words, full-time faculty and allied professional staff, inclusively, are members of the corps of instruction, that include full-time teaching faculty, research faculty, general administrators, academic administrators, public service faculty, librarians, and counselors who hold Board-approved academic rank; are tenured, on tenure track, or in positions that are not tenure track; and are employed on at least an academic year contract. Instructional faculty are a subset of this group. Part-time faculty are not included.

According to USG Faculty Definitions, “Instructional Faculty” cohort, a subset of the Corps of Instruction, requires additional criterion: “The BCAT (i.e., occupational category) must correspond to an EEO of “2”, for instructional personnel. The BCAT is applied to a position by each institution, and there is a crosswalk between BCAT and EEO codes.” Additionally, the SREB (Southern Regional Education Board) faculty reporting is also incorporated into the definitions of instructional faculty; that is, “the System includes department heads and temporary faculty as Instructional Faculty and excludes Librarians.”

GGC’s Faculty: Full-time faculty at Georgia Gwinnett College (GGC) are appointed into non-tenure-track positions. GGC faculty members are eligible for renewable appointments of three or five year’s duration or one year non-renewable appointments. GGC renewable appointments were approved by the Board of Regents effective June 2007.

As a new institution, GGC hires highly qualified faculty and staff on a continuous basis. The employee profile changes constantly, thus the personnel information is provided by semester.
